Message from our Founders

Thank you for attending the Small Business Channel launch event.

The Small Business Channel is a global community of small business owners who connect and exchange resources to help each other grow and assist with financial support, economic development, business growth, and revenue generation.

Economic inequality plagues the small business. Small businesses struggle to access the capital and support they need to grow. We believe that small business success is predicated on exposure to economic opportunities and access to resources that is typically only available to larger businesses, such as access to capital, information, and trade opportunities. We want to help reduce this economic disparity and grant small businesses within the Small Business Channel opportunities to overcome this adversity.

Our primary focus is to expose the small business community to economic opportunities available collectively that would not be available individually. We are strong advocates of the small business owner and share our collective wealth of knowledge to ensure continued growth, development, and revenue generation.

We welcome you to join us on our mission to collaborate, educate, engage, trade, purchase, provide solutions, promote growth, cross market brands, products and services within the SBC.

We are excited to join you on this journey and wish you much success.

With warm regards,

Jakki Dee & Mike Glover
